Dear First Grade families,

I hope everyone had a fantastic week! We had so much fun in first grade. We had a special guest and learned about the Artemis 1 launch. We also studied properties of matter and the roles we play in our community.

Next week, we will not have a spelling test due to it being a shorter week. However, the students will still need to practice their spelling for homework. We will also have our FAST (Florida's Assessment for Student Thinking) testing this Wednesday. On Thursday and Friday, we will have our first unit tests in reading and math. Hope you all have a safe and happy Labor Day weekend!!!

Sincerely,
Ms. Martinez ☺

Friendly reminders:

- * Volunteer hours officially begin on September 6th. Please check the website for opportunities available.
- * Students should practice writing complete sentences and sight words. Also, counting/writing numbers to 120.
- * Mrs. B's birthday is Saturday Sept 10th. Let's show her some love this week and appreciate all she does for us. ☺
