

Weissler Weekly

For the week of January 9th, 2023!

-Announcements

No School

This is just a reminder that there will be no school on Monday January 16th in observance of Martin Luther King Jr Day. There is also no school on Friday, January 13th for a teacher work day.

Writing Progress

In the first half of the year we primarily focused on creating ideas and putting them onto the paper. In the second half of the year we will begin to correct and edit our papers as we learn more grammar and punctuation rules.

I am so excited to see the effort of our class in writing our essays. Our last essay we planned out and began writing was a narrative. Please look for these in your child's folder this weekend. I have personally discussed the format and writing with each student. It would be great for you to read it with them and see their progress.

PE/Health

Students are working on their throwing and catching skills. Students are beginning our unit on nutrition. Students are learning about healthy and unhealthy foods and different types of nutrients.
